Liliana Santizo, CNR SNR '12

Born in Guatemala, raised in New York, and now flourishing in Porto, Portugal, Liliana Santizo embodies a truly global perspective in her mission of "Designing a Flourishing Life." Her diverse background fuels a passionate commitment to creating a more equitable and accessible world for all.

Liliana believes we are called to not just maintain, but actively design and improve peace and balance in our world. Her approach transforms business practices and personal lives by understanding human behavior, challenging inherited systems, and promoting responsible impact. While acknowledging that we live within systems handed down to us, Liliana emphasizes our power to redesign and make choices that lead to flourishing. She advocates for constant adjustment and evaluation, ensuring that our systems positively impact our wellbeing, foster meaningful connections, respect nature, and drive ethical business practices.

Dedicated to empowering individuals and organizations to design their own flourishing futures, Liliana is committed to creating a more just and sustainable world through conscious transformation. She invites others to join her in this crucial quest for positive change, where every life and business has the opportunity to truly flourish.
